Cancer charity benefits from 24-hour walk

By DAVID WATKINSON

FLYING FLAG: Event organisers celebrate taking part in the Relay For Life

Charity fundraisers from across East Lancashire have collected an 'incredible' £110,000 after a 24-hour walking event.

The Relay For Life, held at Great Harwood Showground, saw 250 cancer patients, survivors and supporters taking part.

Organised by the Ribble Valley and White Rose Ladies, the event was held in aid of Cancer Research.

During the past 12 years the group, which now has members across Lancashire and Yorkshire, has raised more than £800,000 for the charity.

Founder and group secretary Karen Weaving said: "It is unbelievable we raised so much money.

"The relay event is our main fundraiser of the year, but no-one thought we would get so much.

"I am so proud of all of our supporters because the amount we raised goes beyond our wildest dreams. Next year I think we can raise even more. This year we raised £34,000 more than last time. The event is growing and growing."

She said the group was now focusing on reaching the £1million mark.

The group is chaired by Karen Mendoros, wife of Dennis Mendoros, the former High Sheriff of Lancashire and boss of aerospace firm Euravia, in Kelbrook.

The Relay For Life saw 25 teams complete a continuous walk for 24 hours. Members of the teams can take it in turns to walk, as long as one team member is walking at all times.

The event ran from 2pm on Saturday, July 16, until 2pm the following day.

'Treasure' highlight for Pirates actor

Ian McShane has said the most fun thing about filming his role in the latest Pirates of the Caribbean movie was "cashing the cheque".

The Blackburn actor, 68, played Blackbeard in the fourth instalment of the adventure series, On Stranger Tides.

He said: "I got to keep an outfit afterwards and my grandkids get to see the movie, which is really kind of nice. I gave Blackbeard's scabbard to my grandson."

School dinner lady sent to top of class

By NAFEESA SHAN

FINEST FARE: Alison Callaghan was named Apprentice of the Year

Fine dining could soon be on the menu at one primary school after its cook was named Apprentice of the Year.

Alison Callaghan, 43, enrolled on Blackburn College's advanced apprenticeship to 'spice up' school dinners at Daisyfield Primary School, Blackburn.

Dinner lady Alison impressed staff with dishes such as Parma ham-wrapped asparagus with poached eggs as part of her Level 3 Professional Cookery course.

She was awarded the Apprentice of the Year title at the college's Catering and Hospitality Awards ceremony.

She said: "I love my job as a dinner lady, but I have always felt we could spice up our dishes a little more – if I knew how.

"At first I was nervous about returning to education, but I soon felt at home at Blackburn College and felt part of a great team.

"The favourite dish I created was Parma ham-wrapped asparagus with poached eggs. It was a simple dish that was stunning to look at and tasted delicious, and the classic Beef Wellington.

"I have learnt to be more creative in preparing, and making, food and have seen my confidence grow and grow. I can't wait to start trying new things at the school – although I might have to leave Parma-ham wrapped asparagus with poached eggs off the menu just yet."

The Catering and Hospitality Awards celebrated a range of courses, including Professional Cookery, Food Safety, Hospitality Supervision, Apprenticeships in Cookery and Food and Beverage Service, Multi-Skilled Hospitality Services, Housekeeping and Front Office Reception.

Christine Kenyon, head of Hair and Beauty, Hospitality and Essential Studies Curriculum Centre, said: "On behalf of all the centre staff I want to congratulate our students on another year of outstanding work. For some students this is another chance in education, for others it is the start of their careers.

"I am exceptionally proud of what everyone has achieved. Their hard work, commitment and dedication is exemplary."

Revamped health centre is opened

By NEIL DOCKING

The revamped Bentham Road Health Centre has opened following a half--million-pound refurbishment.

The centre, in Mill Hill, which serves the whole of south west Blackburn, now boasts a two-storey extension with an extra three GP consulting rooms, two treatment or minor ops rooms, and office accommodation.

The work, carried out over 19 weeks at a cost of £528,000, has also seen the existing building remodelled to create a GP library, an administration office and a store room.

A new reception counter has been created, and an energy-efficient gas boiler installed with a new heating system.

And a new pitched roof has been built over both the old building and the extension, with a new external finish and external bin store.

The centre was officially opened by Blackburn with Darwen Council's Mayor, Coun Karimeh Foster. She said: "I think it's a very good idea to have a health centre like this in the community, near where people live. There are quite a lot of services they can get from there, not just from the doctors themselves.

"I believe they also have drug and diabetic services and some social services. This is another good example of the Care Trust Plus and council working together."

PATIENT SERVICES: Adam Black, site lead GP, checks the blood pressure of Jo Black, watched by Graham Burgess, Blackburn with Darwen Council chief executive, Sir Bill Taylor, Coun Karimeh Foster, and Coun Konrad Trapp. Below, the exterior of the refurbished health centre.

The new health centre will also house The Cornerstone Practice and two GPs, Doctor Adam Black and Doctor Naomi Chadwick.

Cornerstone Healthcare is a community interest company, which means that any profits made are ploughed back into serving the community.

Fight to halt phone mast

By EMMA CRUCES

'UNSUITABLE': Coun Dobson

Residents have launched a protest campaign to stop a mobile telephone mast being built in a conservation area in Accrington.

Residents in Hollins Lane have started a petition to oppose the Vodafone and O2 mast proposed for land near Oak Hill Park, the Haworth Art Gallery, and a few hundred yards from the Accrington Pals memorial.

They believe the 13.8 metre mast, with two equipment cabinets, would be 'disrespectful' and an 'eyesore'.

Residents in Royds Avenue have put "Say NO to the phone mast" signs in their windows, and an online campaign has also started.

Ward councillor Tony Dobson said more than 350 people had so far objected in writing to Hyndburn Council.

He said: "It is totally unsuitable for a conservation area, and there is the war memorial."

A spokesman for Vodafone said they would be sharing the facility with 02.

The spokesman said: "In the last 12 months there has been a significant increase in the demand for mobile broadband from our customers, which has arisen from the increased number of smartphones and tablets in use."

Mission to repair roads

By EMMA CRUCES

'DISGRACE': Derek Brown, and left, Fishmoor Drive

A pensioner is waging a one-man crusade against potholes, earning him the title the 'unofficial council inspector'.

Derek Brown, 77, worked as a 'jackhammer man' using a pneumatic drill to carry out roadworks across Blackburn and Darwen during the 1950s and 1960s for the council.

The pensioner said potholes were filled in within a day of being reported during his time working on highways.

Now, despite repeated calls to the council about the state of crumbling speed bumps and potholes near his home, off Fishmoor Drive, Blackburn, he said nothing had yet been done.

And Mr Brown said he has made so many complaints about Fishmoor Drive, Manxman Road, Morecambe Road, Roman Road and surrounding streets to Blackburn with Darwen Council, people now refer to him as the 'unofficial council inspector'.

He also claims the road conditions have personally cost him £500 in car repairs.

He said: "The condition of the roads is disgraceful. It looks like a training ground for tanks. The sleeping policemen have disintegrated, and the potholes are huge.

"I must have phoned them hundreds of times, but they only do part of the road, or a patch-up job."

Coun Dave Harling, Blackburn with Darwen Council executive member for regeneration, said: "There is an additional million pounds being spent on potholes.

"There are also works scheduled to be done in Morecambe Road and Fishmoor Drive.

"While it is not going to be the whole length of these streets, some of Manxman Road is also being done.

"We had to make cuts in the maintainance budget and the number of potholes means we are in a dire situation."

Band's heavy metal party

Heavy metal band Judas Priest are about to embark on a 40th anniversary world tour. Frontman Rob Halford explains that despite it being their last hurrah, the band will continue to fly the flag for British heavy metal.

60 SECONDS WITH ... JUDAS PRIEST

HAVE YOU ALWAYS ENJOYED TOURING?

Yes, absolutely. It's still a thrill for all of us in the band. It's exciting, and it's about connecting with the fans. We've never lost focus on the fact that we've been given this great life by the fans that have supported us all along, and this is our way of saying thank you, by going out on a massive world tour that takes almost two years to complete. We're one of the few British metal acts who can go all around the world.

DO YOU RELISH THAT YOU HAVE A SCHEDULE FOR PRETTY MUCH EVERY DAY BETWEEN NOW AND CHRISTMAS?

It can seem daunting but, like with everything, there's a beginning, middle and end. The rewards are standing on stage in London, Manchester, Madrid, Oslo, or wherever, and being with the amazing fans. We're very upbeat on this tour. We're going to try to touch on something from every important record we've made over the 40 years. It's going to be a heavy metal party.

THIS IS THE FINAL WORLD TOUR, BUT IT'S NOT THE END OF THE BAND, IS IT?

No, it's not. You face mortality at certain points in your life, and we're not getting any younger. We want to keep on making music, and we want to keep performing this calibre of show, but we only want to perform at this level. Like a biker, we want to ride off into the sunset, not fall off in front of everyone. We will be touring in the future, probably festivals and special events, but we won't be doing these big gruelling tours. There will be a new album late next year, and there is going to be a boxset this year.

Ready to rock park

By JOHN ANSON

Bassist Greg Churchouse admits that his band Scouting For Girls are in a better position than most when it comes to playing the big summer festivals.

"I suppose we are a rock band that plays pop songs, which is a pretty good combination for a festival," he said. "Festivals are a great laugh and we are blessed in having a whole range of singalong-type songs which always go down well.

"When you look out from a festival stage, it's a great sight to see the whole crowd caught up in what you are doing. It's a really special feeling."

In just four years, Scouting for Girls have had a string of top 40 hits, two hugely successful albums, and won over a whole new audience with their live sets. "When you listen to our records it's all professionally produced, but when we get on stage it all gets fairly hectic," he laughed.

"The best compliment we've had was after a show when someone came up and said his girlfriend had forced him to go along, but that having seen us he thought we were quite good. That's genius."

FESTIVAL DATE: Scouting For Girls

● Scouting for Girls play Towneley Live, Burnley, along with N-Dubz, The Saturdays, and McFly, on Saturday, August 13. Tickets are available in person from the box office at Burnley Mechanics, local HMV stores, or HMV tickets on 0843 221 0100. Visit www.towneleylive.co.uk

Scouting For Girls – Greg, Roy Stride on vocals and guitar and drummer Pete Ellard, met as teenagers. "We've been mates longer than we've been in a band together," said Greg. "But that means we are so comfortable with each other on stage and that shows. We love playing live and getting that feeling off an audience."

This summer as well as Towneley Live, the band will be playing other festivals around the country, including the prestigious V Festival at Leeds and Reading.

Cinema round-up

THE TREE OF LIFE (12A) A film of long, haunting silences and apparent inactivity that glimpses fragments of Earth's turbulent history, starring Brad Pitt.

LARRY CROWNE (12A) Starring Tom Hanks and Julia Roberts, two strangers meet at a public speaking class and together embark on Larry's journey of self-discovery.

BEGINNERS (15) Christopher Plummer delivers one of his finest performances in a heartbreaking comedy drama inspired by the writer-director's relationship with his own father.

Persimmon Homes and FirstBuy

Walk this way to the Home of your Dreams

Laburnum Walk in Blackburn is proving to be a runaway success – since the official launch in June, a number of homes have been snapped up by eager buyers, so much so that staff at Persimmon have had to release more properties weeks ahead of schedule. What's more, interest in the development looks set to soar even further following the news that the development is to include a number of FirstBuy homes.

FirstBuy is the Government's latest incentive geared at helping first time buyers get onto the property ladder - Persimmon has 122 new homes across its Lancashire region – 31 at Laburnum Walk alone – meaning many young buyers will soon be able to turn their home-owning dreams into a reality.

Diane England, sales director for Persimmon Homes Lancashire, said: "With a mix of one through to seven bedroom homes, Laburnum Walk is a great choice for first time and family buyers alike, all of who are sure to be impressed with its stunning location and competitively-priced properties."

FirstBuy is offered through equity loan funding of up to 20 per cent of the purchase price split equally between the Homes and Communities Agency and Persimmon, with purchasers being required to raise funding (a mortgage plus deposit) of at least 80 per cent of the purchase price. This means that a property worth £160,000, buyers need to secure a mortgage of £120,000, with a deposit of just £8,000.

Together, we make a home

Imagery shows a typical Persimmon house type and Showhome interior. *Available on selected plots at selected developments, subject to status, terms and conditions. FirstBuy cannot be used in conjunction with any other scheme and is not available in Wales and Scotland. Eligible applicants will be offered an equity loan of up to a maximum of 20% of the purchase price (based on the open market value). The registered provider will hold the second charge on the property. FirstBuy customers are required to fund at least 80% of the purchase price by means of a conventional mortgage, savings and any deposit where required. FirstBuy customers must obtain their conventional mortgage from a Qualified Lending Institution. For the first five years there is no fee charged on the equity loan component. At the start of year six a fee is collected of 1.75% of the market value of the property at the time the loan is entered into multiplied by the outstanding percentage under the equity loan, the annual fee of 1.75% will be uplifted by RPI + 1% p.a. The equity loan is provided by the Homes and Communities Agency and developer as a second charge. It is highly advised, for a swift, smooth transaction that an IFA/Solicitor advised by Persimmon Homes is used. YOUR HOME MAY BE REPOSSESSED IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON YOUR MORTGAGE AND/OR YOUR EQUITY LOAN. Full details available on request. †Calls to 0844 numbers cost 5p per minute from a BT landline. Mobile and other providers' charges may vary. Prices and details correct at time of going to press.

General Vacancies

Hawke Precision Engineering work within the mining, rail and aerospace industry and in line with their continued growth are looking to recruit:

Buyer / Production Planning Coordinator

As an experienced buyer you will manage the sourcing, negotiating and contracting for all groups of spend categories/products and will be responsible for developing effective business relationships with suppliers and internal customers. You will also be accountable for creating, leading and monitoring the production planning process from initial order intake to ensure optimization of the weekly Production schedule to meet 'on time' delivery to our customers. Continuous Improvement will be key to the role, and there will be an expectation to share and replicate Best Practice with colleagues to improve machine utilization, quality and KPI targets, to ensure an alignment of all site resources to meet the Central Plan.

Able to demonstrate your ability to work with best costings, planning, material ordering systems you will have an understanding of Long and Short term planning methodologies. With excellent communication and project management skills, you will be able to react quickly and positively to any changes in production and make any amendments immediately - communicating these efficiently and effectively to all stakeholders. The ability to multitask and deal with a variety of scenarios is a must along with having the flexibility to adapt in an exciting fast paced working environment.

If you are experienced and looking for a career move, please send your c.v. with covering letter to: Lesley Stirland, Hawke Precision Engineering, Holland Slack Works, Chorley Road, Walton Le Dale, Preston, Lancashire, PR5 4JS or alternatively email lesleystirland@hawkeengineering.co.uk

OUR RATE IS GREAT
FINANCE FLAT RATE ONLY 4.5% WITH A TYPICAL APR OF 8.9%
Before you decide on your financial fate. Just take a look at our very low rate. Four and a half per cent flat rate sounds fine. With an APR of only 8.9
For every grand over four years you borrow. Only £24-58, to pay back "tomorrow." No doc fees to be paid on this loan. Which could be 250 quid, moan, groan, moan. Four grand borrowed over 4 year is £98-32. Times 48, "Oh i'm sooo good to you!"
